unique with
hidden potential”

Founder's Message

The very purpose of a good school is to recognise and nurture the hidden talents of their student and prepare them for future challenges with the required academic and leadership skills. My experience of 25 years in training students for NTSE, Olympiads, IIT, NEET has further emboldened this belief. Our endeavour at Global Pratibha International School is to nurture every child in a unique manner as per his/her potential.

The present era is the era of digital technology where technology has the greatest impact on education and all possible domains be it social, economic or political. As we know that education is a lifelong process and in our present scenario, no one can imagine education without the education of digital skills. Development in artificial intelligence, robotics and genetic engineering is making the current workforce redundant and only those who are able to learn and train themselves with these technologies will be able to continue forward.

At Global Pratibha International School we ensure that all children at our campus inculcate a rapid learning aptitude and a competitive spirit from the very beginning. Global Pratibha International School aims to provide a holistic education and conducive atmosphere to every child for their emotional, spiritual, physical and intellectual growth along with the ability to conquer future challenges. This will make our students future leaders which is the requirement for the future workforce.

I personally believe that every child is born talented and Global Pratibha International School is a talent factory where each student will hone their talents and will ensure they use it in productive ways. This is only possible due to Global Pratibha International School being governed by Ex-IITians, IAS officers and eminent academicians.
